Social Factors of Child Mortality in Bangladesh

A Micro Level Analysis

Nazmul Huda

Nazmul Huda is currently working as a lecturer in sociology at department of humanities in Bangladesh University of Engineering and Technology (BUET), Dhaka Bangladesh. He completed his BSS and MSS degree from department of sociology, University of Dhaka. In addition demographic issues, he is currently working in the field of food security, quality education and disaster management related issues.

The present work is a sociological investigation which shows the social factors that cause child mortality in Bangladesh. The author investigates some rural villages in Narail District, Bangladesh using both quantitative and qualitative methods to investigate. A questionnaire set containing more than sixty questions used as a tool for survey. This small scale investigation attempts to show how sociological research should be carried out using the proper methodology. And it also reveals some hilarious traditions/practices prevailing in rural area in Bangladesh during antenatal, delivery and post natal period that seriously affect child mortality.

NEW ACADEMIC PUBLISHERS
4760-61, 23 Ansari Road, New Delhi - 110002
Tel : 91 11 23275509, 22413394
Email : napindia1011@gmail.com
Website : www.newacademicpublishers.com

ISBN : 978-8186772744
9 788186 772744
₹ 295.00 $ 5.95

Social Factors of Child Mortality in Bangladesh
A Micro Level Analysis
Nazmul Huda

Social Factors of Child Mortality in Bangladesh

A Micro Level Analysis

Nazmul Huda